We are very honored to have been chosen by Henny and her partners to take over their wheatbran and palmkernel operations.

Cerealis, created in 1995, today occupies a leading position in the export of wheat, soybean meal and corn from several origins to Africa and Madagascar. Our activities are complementary and will generate new synergies useful to all our clients.

The entire Cerealis team will be able to continue and develop with the same energy and professionalism the fantastic work carried out by Davof and his associates and we are committed to the same approach of proximity and availability.
